Mollyockett Day

PLANS MOVING RIGHT ALONG

The Bethel Lions Club held a Mollyockett Day Committee meeting at its Lions Den on June 20. The meeting was very productive with input from many of the individual area chairmen as to where preparations stood at that time. And the word from this year's Mollyockett Day Chairman Peter Anderson, was "plans for this year's activities are moving right along, with some loose ends to be finalized."

A FEW REMINDERS

This year's Common Chairman is Howard Donahue: anyone interested in having a booth on the Common should contact Gene Kelly, at 824-2086, those interested in Arts and Crafts should be contacting Jay Willard, at 824-2713, for parade and floats the Lion to be seen is Earl Merrill of Bryant Pond or call 665-2334. The above are individual area chairmen, but any Lions Club member can be of service or get you going in the right direction, so don't hesitate in asking or calling.

This year's theme, "Bethel the 1900's" offers a wide range of ideas for floats, and if help is needed, the Bethel Historical Society is a good organization to contact.

PARTICIPANTS AND STAFF ARRIVE FOR FIRST WEEK OF NTL'S SUMMER CONFERENCES

Last week end saw the arrival of approximately 150 participants and staff for the first week of NTL's 1984 summer conferences in Bethel. Four different programs on the general theme of human resource development are being held this week at the NTL Conference Center on Broad Street and at Gould Academy. In the Monday afternoon orientation session in Bingham Gym, the group was welcomed not only by NTL Executive Director Joseph Potts but also by Joan T. Wiese on behalf of the town of Bethel and by Alvin Barth for Gould Academy.

This week also inaugurates the new season of NTL's Sunrise Seminars. These are informal 45-minute presentations by staff members who are a changing group each week. These seminars are open to members of the Bethel Community at no charge and are held in the Maine Room of the annex behind the NTL Conference Center. Starting time is 7:30 a. m. and the days are Tuesday through Saturday. Earlier this week presentations were made by Charles Seashore, Joseph Potts and Lee Butler. The seminars for the remainder of the week are: Friday, June 29, Richard Orange, "Cultural Differences: A Coming Together", and Saturday, June 30, Sylvia Carter, "Public Ponderings on Power and Poundage Problems."

The topics for each week's seminars are being regularly posted in a number of locations around Bethel, West Bethel, and Locke Mills. Throughout the 8-week season the list of topics will be posted on Tuesdays, but persons who wish to know the topic for Tuesday may call the NTL office at 824-2151 on Monday afternoons. A welcome is extended to all interested persons from the Bethel area.

Notice

Contributors having materials for the Thursday, July 5, edition of "The Citizen" should submit them ONE DAY EARLIER than is customary. As there is no delivery on Wednesday, July 4, Independence Day, those utilizing the Postal Service should mail material no later than Monday, July 2.

The Board of Selectmen will meet this evening (Thursday) at 7 p. m. in the Town Office to hear and act upon citizen comments about a proposed increase in sewer rates from $19.50 per 1,000 cubic feet of water usage to $20.50 per 1,000 cubic feet. Since 1981 when rates were last increased, sewer operating costs have continued to rise to the point that they would surpass expected revenues were rates to remain at $19.50 per 1,000 cubic feet. Comments may be submitted in writing, if desired, or delivered orally at the hearing. Should the Selectmen approve of the rate increase, bills will be posted after July 15.

"No Parking" signs and posts have arrived at the Town Garage for posting this week along both sides of the Mill Hill Extension Road near the Bethel Inn. Last winter, the Board of Selectmen acted to permit two way traffic and both sides no parking between Broad and Mill Hill Streets following an inspection by D.O.T. safety engineers and discussions with representatives of the Bethel Inn management who stated a preference for maintaining two way traffic. Land surveys completed in 1983 determined that Mill Hill Extension Road is a Town Road to be maintained at public expense and the pavement width is insufficient to permit parking along the road edge and two way traffic, according to state road safety criteria. Patrons of the Bethel Inn are encouraged to check at the front desk to obtain parking information on the premises.

The next regular meeting of the Board of Selectmen will be Tuesday, July 10, at 7 p. m. in the Town Office Meeting Room.

GOOD NEWS AND BAD FROM NUCLEAR WASTE COMMISSION

Citizens of the Bethel area who attended the June 21 hearing of the Maine Low Level Radioactive Waste Siting Commission in Augusta received both good and bad news related to the possibility of a radioactive dump being established on the Sunday River. In a decisive vote, the commission passed unanimously a resolution strongly recommending against "shallow land burial" of nuclear wastes, a method of nuclear dumping for which the location on the Sunday River was chosen because of the type of soil found there. "Shallow land burial" has met with widespread public oppositions, due to the fact that all such dumps established previously have leaked radioactive poisons into the surrounding ground water. Alva Morrison, and other members of the local Headwaters Alliance of the Sunday River, hailed the move as "a significant step forward."

The bad news is that this step does not rule out the possibility of a dumping ground in Sunday River. George Seal of the Maine Dept. of Environmental Protection, in testimony describing alternatives to shallow land burial, said that new federal regulations require that any nuclear disposal site, above or below ground, be located in a place which meets federal criteria for isolation from population centers and type of soil where shallow land burial would be deemed acceptable. The Sunday River site was selected along with several others in the State as a location likely to meet all the necessary qualifications. It was made clear in the hearing that if Maine decides to build its own above-ground disposal facility, all sites previously screened for shallow land burial will be viewed as likely candidates for a location. Members of the Headwaters Alliance indicated that they would continue

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

At 4:30 this morning the awaking of birds was like a musical mist-set alarm clock. There were the voices of robins, purple finches, catbirds, rose breasted grosbeaks and many more. But none could compete with the thrushes that sang from the dusky woods out back. I listened until time to get up and as I went through the day nothing could equal it.

The change between spring and summer up the Bulldozer Road and in the farm fields isn't gradual. One day the wind is brisk and wears a chill. The sun is warm if I am directly in it, but the wind is sharp enough to mute the warmth and make me struggle in to my collar. The ground is cold and brown with a few green plants seeking the sun. It's a restless time; we feel the need to do something constructive.

Then one day at the end of May, there is a marked change. Perhaps not too much more green on the ground and the wind is still capricious. But the sun has heated the soil enough so that it gives back radiation.

The breeze is softer. The sun is really warm. The smell of pine comes on the breeze from every direction.

In June, the day before summer, I noticed the same but much of it molded together because of the warmth and the moisture from the soil. In June there is no longer an empty field. Like plants that needed moisture and sun, the insect eggs laid last fall have hatched and emerged; it seems overnight. A grasshopper appears at every step, always landing just where I plan to put my foot again. I like the description I once wrote down, written by Jules Renard in his "Natural Histories". It fits a grasshopper better than any other I have read. "He is afraid of nothing, because he has seven-league boots, the neck of a bull, the brow of a genius, the belly of a ship, celluloid wings, devil's horns, and a big sword on his backside."

Beetles, tiny bugs of many colors, and sizes pitter among the leaves and stems.

The grasses in the fields are tall and ready for mowing so I kept by the walls. It has been some time since I had been up the hill to view the valley. This, to me, is a place of all seasons. How many times have I climbed this hill? How many times have I sat and looked at the scenery? How many memories over nearly 60 years?

Here part of each season mingles with another. In winter there is the promise of spring and in spring there is a foretaste of summer. The white of summer clouds reminds me of the drifts of winter snow. The green of spruces brings thoughts of the first spring mallard. The gray rocks are reminders of gray winter skies.

Big fat bees were on clover blossoms, as they shimmered against the grasses.

I was glad to be out on this impeccable day. The air was full of birdsong. As I stood looking out at the mountains letting it all soak in, was to compare it to a puzzle of many pieces set out on a table. Occasionally a few pieces fit together, enhanced by knowing the puzzle will never be complete. There will always be something new to discover.

As each season passes, we who live realize how pioneers felt about the preciousness of their land. The "hill" is full of treasures for the observer. I saw a nest tumbled to the ground near a beautiful blue-eyed grass, and a weathered tree knot which looked like a bird.

On Thursday, Doris Hayes and I went out for dinner with other teachers and then all returned to Doris' for the afternoon.

Sunday, Clyde and I called on my sister, Lucy Ridley and her husband, Waterford.

Mr. and Mrs. James Whitman, Norway, stopped for a dooryard call one evening recently.

Fay and Ann Holt attended the Holt Reunion at Moses Mason House in Bethel on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Spire and children, New Hampshire, were with Doris Hayes over the week end. Other callers were Duane Hayes and children, West Paris; Ardell Hayes, Auburn.

Ruth Collins of Freeport is visiting her sister, Rena Curtis for a week. Dorothy Curtis, Kathy Curtis and Eva Felton, local, were callers one evening.

Fred Curtis, sons, Walter, Albert and daughter, Colista, and some of their families were in Jackman and Skinner over the week end.

Congratulations to Murad Sayen, Zeba Weidner and Paul Beaton who passed their state licensing exam Monday night and became E. M. T.'s

The auxiliary is planning a picnic for Monday night, July 2, at Ruth Scribner's home in East Sumner. Auxiliary and families are invited. Please bring a salad or a dessert.

Tri Town Search and Rescue Team completed their training on Sunday with Gary Anderson from the Maine Game Warden Service. The members walked through the woods on Curtis Hill in South Woodstock, marking straight lines and looking for clues that would indicate where someone had traveled.

Safety Tip of the Week—

Summer lightning storms can be beautiful to watch, but they have their danger. Common sense is helpful. Remember water and metals conduct electricity, which means the charge from a lightning bolt could easily travel through to a person on the other end.

Swimming is very dangerous in an electrical storm, as is sailing with a metal mast. Standing under a tall tree in an open field may keep you dry, but the lightning may strike the tallest object in the area and that might be where you are standing.

If you are in a car which has been struck or is in contact with a downed electrical wire, stay put. The rubber tires do not conduct electricity and you are not grounded until you decide to get out.

Next week—What to do if you are struck by lightning or witness someone who is.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Recently there has been a large changeover in the directorship of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce. We would like to thank Don Bennett, Louise Lincoln, Barbara Brown and Marlene Marshall for their years of unselfish and dedicated service. As we, a new board of directors take over, it is comforting to know that we have their years of experience to fall back on should the need arise.

We are looking forward to the opportunity to serve the needs of Bethel area businesses and those of the public in general. It will be our aim to create a healthy energetic business climate in the Bethel Area. This should have a rebound effect which will benefit everyone whether it be by new jobs, more services or new products, etc.

Please watch this paper for dates, times and location of our meetings. We will be meeting frequently and most meetings will be open to the public. We encourage any members, prospective members or interested citizens to attend these meetings. To the Editor:

I am a lover of history and I have a somewhat unusual hobby. I collect old tokens used by stores, barber shops, lumber companies, saloons, forts, and other businesses years ago. The tokens were "good for" $1.00, 50c, 25c, 12½c, or such in trade or merchandise or "good for" loaf of bread, one drink, one shave, one ride or whatever. They were usually made of metal, and while having the general appearance of a coin, they were made in all shapes and sizes with some picturing elephants, cows, birds and buildings.

I have reason to believe that some of these tokens were used in your area and I would be most interested in obtaining some of them for my collection.

I am hoping that if you have a "Letter to the Editor" section or such in your paper that you might mention my search. I know that this request is relatively unimportant but I do get a great deal of enjoyment from my hobby and I do believe that these concrete reminders of our great heritage are worth preserving.

I would like to hear from anyone having one or more of these tokens or from anyone that might be able to help me. Any help that you can give me of any kind is greatly appreciated. I now live in Texas and my address is Travis Roberts, Box 1168, Bellaire, Texas 77401.

Thank you in advance and best wishes,
Travis Roberts

IN MEMORY OF
MABEL B. ROBERTSON

She was born Mabel Flora Bean on Feb. 13, 1896 near Bethel Village on what used to be the "Lovers Lane" road near the "Steam Mill"—just past the cemetery but on the opposite side of the road (years later there was an oil company on the same site).

Soon after her birth her parents (Vear Wesley Bean and Annie Hill Bean) moved back to the Peter Chandler place on Chandler Hill road (the other side of her brother Wesley's future homestead). Peter Chandler was Abial Chandler's brother.

When she was old enough she started school at the old South Bethel Grammar School (a one-room schoolhouse for 1st through 8th grade pupils).

At the age of eight she moved to Malden, Mass., where her father found employment as a motorman on the electric trolley cars which ran between Malden and Scully Square in Boston. They lived there for two years until a strike affected the trolley services, then they moved back to the Ira Bean farm on Chandler Hill. Soon after they returned Vear Bean's brother, Frank, asked him to move to South Bethel, Ariz., to work with him in the copper mines so they decided to go. Mabel was now 10 years old, her brother Wesley was eight and sister Georgina was six. They rode on the train from Maine to Arizona and made their home in South Bethel.

After two years Mabel's father, Vear, suffered from rheumatic fever because of the dampness inside the mine. They returned to Chandler Hill. When Mabel was ready for her Freshman year at Gould Academy, her Grandfather gave her a horse of her own. It was four miles from the farm to Bethel Village and she rode back and forth all her Freshman year then her Sophomore year she went to Mayville and worked her board and room at the home of Baker Thurston. Her junior year she worked at Holden Hall as a waitress then her Senior year she stayed at Holden Hall through the efforts of her father who contracted with the school to cut and haul 25 cords of hardwood for the wood furnace which heated the building.

During her Senior year she was President of the Y.W.C.A. and one of her projects was to make "comfort bags" for the men in the armed services. These bags contained buttons, thread, needles, pins, etc., and some were sent to the Sailors' Institute in Portland, Maine, for distribution to various bases. It seems that the girls who made them enclosed their addresses "just for fun" and the one Mabel made finally became the property of Robert Kirk, "Electrician R.P.", U. S. Navy. He promptly wrote her a letter which began an interesting correspondence. He planned to spend his leave in Bethel and sent a dozen roses for her to carry in June 1914 when she graduated. He married her in June, 1915 and she went to Charleston,

NEW CLEARINGHOUSE
ESTABLISHED

A new clearinghouse of information on the prevention of developmental disabilities has been established. Readers are invited to write or call for information on a variety of health care issues aimed at reducing developmental disabilities. Project coordinator Glenn Griswold for the Western Maine Developmental Disabilities Prevention Project stated "the clearinghouse has been established to provide residents in the Androscoggin, Franklin and Oxford tri-county area a source of information on such topics as child safety, genetic counseling, poison prevention, child growth and development, nutrition during pregnancy, drug and alcohol material for the pregnant woman, smoking awareness materials, and general parenting materials." Single copies of these materials can be obtained by writing to: Western Maine Developmental Disabilities Prevention Project, 618 Main Street, Lewiston, Maine 04240 or call 784-9155 and ask for Glenn Griswold.

S. C., where he was based. Their daughter, Edith Louise, was born at their home near the base in May 1916. Robert was sent overseas on duty to Liverpool, England, and to Queenstown Harbor, Ireland and was a "Warrent Officer" on the U. S. Manley, which collided with a British ship at sea and blew up. Many of his friends were killed at the time—he and other survivors were picked up by other ships of the convoy.

While he was overseas Mabel was back in Bethel and their son, Robert Kirk Jr., was born July 9, 1918, and was six months old when his Dad returned. Mabel and Robert then moved to Oskaloosa, Iowa, to his parents' farm and stayed there for a year. Then they moved to Philadelphia, Pa., where Robert went into the electrical business with his brother, James Kirk. He bought a house there and they stayed for five years before moving back to Maine where a son David Vear Kirk was born July 6, 1923 and then on June 1, 1925 Richard Wilbur was born. David was accidentally shot in a hunting accident in November 1939. He was a senior at Gould Academy and would have graduated the following June, 1940. This was a very sad loss to Mabel but she had an inner strength that helped her to face many trials and difficulties over the nearly 88 years she lived. Her last bout with cancer ended her life but her spirit lives on and all who knew and loved her will agree that she was a generous, understanding, uncompaining, hard working and lovable lady. May her soul rest in peace. We would not wish her back to suffer.

NUCLEAR WASTE COMMISSION

pressure for on-site disposal at the Maine Yankee Nuclear Power Station, which produces 99% of the radioactive waste generated in Maine.

They will also continue collecting signatures for a referendum drive which would give Maine people the right to vote on any plans for storage or disposal of nuclear waste. Some members of the commission voiced opposition to the referendum drive, claiming it limits their power to negotiate compact for disposal with other states. (Another resolution was also passed unanimously by the commission recommending negotiations with a larger state for a compact in which disposal would take place outside of Maine.)

Other activities at the hearing included a detailed report on a trip several commission members took to observe above ground storage of nuclear wastes at the Point Lepreau Nuclear Power Station in New Brunswick, comparison of costs of different waste disposal options, discussion of the volume of waste being generated in Maine, passage of a resolution regarding interim storage of nuclear wastes if Maine does not meet the federal deadline for siting, and a report on the geological suitability of the Maine Yankee site for nuclear disposal. The latter report was inconclusive, and further investigation was recommended.

For further information, contact Headquarters Alliance at 824-3361, or Bethel's State Representative, Jeff Mills, who also attended the hearing.

ALA URGES 4th DRIVERS TO KEEP COOL

Hot-headed motorists with explosive tempers should give the wheel to drivers with cooler heads over the Fourth of July period, the ALA Auto & Travel Club has advised.

"Drivers with low boiling points and short fuses need to recognize that heavy holiday traffic usually makes summer trips steamier than predicted," Huntington D. Lord, ALA vice president, said.

"The last thing New England needs on its roads are drivers with explosive tendencies," Lord said. "Leave the explosives to the pyrotechnic specialists. Don't bring them on the roads."

"A motorist with a short fuse can be more dangerous than fireworks close at hand. In the heat of the moment, a tragic accident could result," Lord said.

(The ALA official urged all drivers to "anticipate delays in holiday traffic and to keep cool at all costs."

AREA SENIORS WIN ARMY SCHOLAR/ATHLETE AWARDS

The U. S. Army has announced the local winners of the prestigious Scholar/Athlete Award.

The Army Reserve annually presents its Scholar/Athlete medalion, similar in design to the Olympic medal, to the top scholar/athletes in high schools across the country.

Rumford area winners are William J. Bennett and Gayle Burns. Their awards were presented to them at a school assembly on June 15 by Army representative, Staff Sgt. Laurence Campbell.

Dixfield High School in Dixfield has two winners—Wayne K. Clark and Joan C. Nash. They received their awards at a general awards assembly.

Gerri Gauthier and Darren Tripp are Scholar/Athlete winners at Telstar Regional High School in Bethel, and they received their awards at the school awards assembly.

Mexico High School winners are Christine E. Arbor and Jamie Paul Marshall, and the school recently presented their medalions and certificates to them.

Winners are selected on their combined superior academic performance as well as outstanding athletic ability. The Army Reserve sponsors the awards as part of a commitment to the academic and physical well-being of the nation's youth. They seek to inspire high school students to "Be All They Can Be" by seeking total mental, physical and character development.

In the past, winners of the Army Reserve Scholar/Athlete Award have included star players in sports from football to rodeo. Many of the winners are also valedictorians or salutatorians of their graduating class.

So congratulations to these winners—all outstanding young Americans!

High St., West Paris B.E.A.R.S.

Set in by Viva Whitman:

Guess Russell was up bright and early on Monday morning as he arrived in Lewiston, at my daughter's home at about eight o'clock. He came to get me to come home and at the same time to look at a car that I had tried out and liked. I wanted him to try it also, as he does most of the driving, whether it is his vehicle or mine. My legs aren't what they might be, so I let him drive. Russell worked in the garden when we got home and then in the evening, we got some real funny looks as people drove by. We were putting up a contraption to let the red beans run up when they are ready. Russell said he bet folks wondered what us crazy folks were up to. Whatever it was, I'm sure they didn't know, but wait until the bean vines climb those ropes and blossom; then people can enjoy a sight for the eyes. They are so pretty when all the red blossoms come out on them and the beans are good for string beans too, so they fill a double purpose, to be a pretty flower and vegetable too.

Had to keep an appointment in South Paris on Tuesday and do other errands, so here again, Russell drove for me as I was unable to do it myself. Had lunch, and saw our cousin's daughter as we do many times. She is a busy waitress.

Did a little typing on Thursday morning as time is growing short to get poems in for the Grange contest and I wanted to enter. Got third place last year and might be lucky enough to do it again. It is better than nothing, and I have the poems to add to my collection too. Also had to go to North Bridgton to see my doctor and try to get straightened out. Wish someone could get me back to what I used to be, but guess it is useless to try at this point of the game, though I keep hoping for a miracle.

Was glad that Friday turned out to be a good day as Russell and I left early for Lewiston for my daughter to drive us to Augusta to get a copy of the title for my old car so I could pick up the car I was trading for. We made sure we stayed on the right side of the bridge so we could get back all right. Got the job done and came back to Lewiston, left my daughter and granddaughter, then went to Auburn to get the car. It took time and was lunch time by then, so Russell and I went for a bite to eat. He told the salesman he didn't know as I would let him drive my new car, but had the privilege of driving it home and has driven it what use it has gotten since, as I have been in no condition to drive any car. It is a '78, but has been kept up in good shape so looks pretty snazzy. All I hope is that it lasts a long time and runs as good as it does now. It has low mileage on it so should last for some time.

Had to go to town on Saturday to get groceries and do the wash, but very essential things to do, so did it early in the morning. Got home and Russell mowed the lawn to make it look better and did a little work around the place, but as it was Grange Night, we didn't overdo. We are getting old I guess because when we are out at night, we are very tired the next day. Not good for much, so to speak. It was election of officers and it is hard to elect them where there are so few who come. However, we did the best we could and hope everyone will co-operate with us for the coming year. Grace came down for a few minutes and as usual her fingers were busy knitting. She keeps something going all the time and I only wish I could do the things I used to do, but this junk I have, just won't let me, so I do what I can and then wish I could do more. I don't like to sit idle and don't any more than I can help, but once in a while it seems to be necessary. Looks like it might really rain, and maybe we need a little for the gardens but I'm afraid it helps the weeds more. When it rains it seems as if they jump right out of the ground and make more work for a fellow whether he can do all the work that needs doing or not. Oh well, guess that is life!

North Paris— Eveline B. Vatcher, Corres. —

Our summer has begun and already the days are beginning to get shorter. Let's enjoy the sun and showers while we may, also the early sun rises and beautiful sunsets. The mother birds have their young on the wires and on the ground for their daily lessons.

Congratulations to the Bethel Citizen's Printers for receiving the Henry H. Hastings Community Service Award on June 17. A true family group.

Eveline Vatcher was at the doctor's office Monday and at Norway hospital for stomach x-rays Wednesday. Evelyn Chamberlin and daughter, Susan Litchfield, our neighbors were at the doctor's also.

David Lyons was painting on June 17 and as he was coming down, the ladder gave away and he fell breaking two bones in his ankle. He was taken to Stephens Memorial Hospital by Tri Town Ambulance. He returned home on Tuesday. He had a lot of work planned for the summer months so he didn't bother to plant a garden. It doesn't pay to plan too far ahead. Just take one day at a time.

Dr. Sidney M. Schmittke, the allergy doctor, had an accident and fractured his left arm and right knee so we don't expect to see him for awhile. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Eva Swan of Locke Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bailey spent the week end at Rochester, N. H. Mrs. Florence Hiley will observe her 97th birthday this week.

and she works in the barn and rides the tractor. It helps to keep her young.

Joe Vatcher and Mrs. Nikla Bailey picked 20 quarts of cultivated strawberries for the Community Club supper on July 28. Doris Lawrence and Eveline hulled the berries and put them in the freezer. Once in a while they sampled them.

Callers at Lawrences: Arnold Coffin, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher, Karen Merrill and James Edgar, Barbara Felt, Sharon and Jenny, Rhoda Vatcher, Stevie Millett, Madelyn Herrick, Albert Penley and Dougie.

Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Root Lawrence visited Polly Lawrence. Pete was fishing. They also visited Amanda Heath.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Hiley spent several days at Fort Jackson, S. C., with their son, Scott, who is a cook in Airborne Division, U. S. Army, and he likes it there very much.

Robert Hiley has had a fun week fishing with Joe Vatcher. June 25 he went to Lewiston then on to Portland for his physical for the U. S. Air Force and he's quite excited about it. His buddy is already at the Air Force Base in Texas.

Harlan Abbott is having two weeks of vacation from Stowell's Silk Spool Co.

Joe Vatcher has started picking his strawberries and the birds holler and jabber at him but he keeps on picking. The birds get their share. Some animal had been digging at Joe's glad bulbs so he set a wire trap and caught a nice fat skunk. He offered him free to anyone wanting a good fresh stew but no one was interested.

South Woodstock— Olivia Davis, Corres. —

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Hathaway had an open house Saturday for their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. David Hathaway from Fort Hood, Texas, who arrived home Friday. They are both in service and are on leave. Other guests expected were Mr. and Mrs. Michael Niro and daughter, Michelle, Milford, Mass., who spent the week end. Michelle had her 2nd birthday Monday.

The large chimney has been replaced on the Andrews funeral home this week.

The crows have been busy pulling corn as fast as it comes up this year. It only takes a couple to keep the corn picked in a small garden. I've planted corn twice which was treated and I have only one hill so far which was almost in the grass. They didn't see that one.

Neil Tibbetts and friend, Edward Young, spent Saturday night with his grandmother, Esther Davis. Sunday they joined with Maria.

Clements' Youth Group at the Universalist Church and went with them to Ferry Beach, Saco. It was a beautiful day for the beach.

Dale Buck did some clipping around with his weeder for me. It made a lot of difference in the looks around here.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cushman from Augusta spent Friday with Olivia Davis. Irving enjoyed his 3-wheeled motor machine and took trips around here on it. He, also, did a little fishing while June and I gabbled.

Two birthdays in town June 17. June Demarest and Sheryl Wilbur. Happy Birthday. I tried to call but had no luck with the telephone so I'm late. Do hope it was a good day for you.

Eric Clements has returned to Fort Kent where he is holding a summer job at a theatre doing carpentry.

Mrs. Marta Clements is taking a three-weeks course at Gorham U. of M. called Summer Writing Institute.

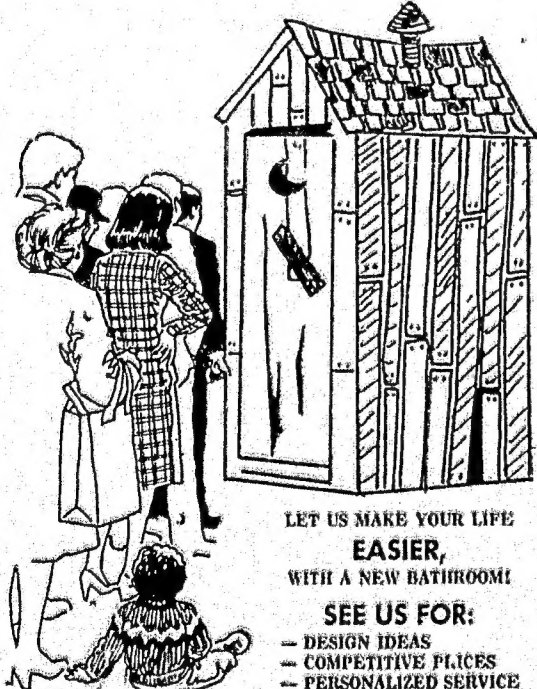

Bruce Clements is working at Pitney Bowes, Norfolk, Conn. David Clements is still at the South Pole where they are having 24 hours of darkness. That sounds like winter and cold. Br-r-r.

NOTES FROM THE WOODSTOCK HISTORICAL SOC.

As we approach the 4th of July, perhaps it might be appropriate to stop and take stock of our patriotic literary heritage. It is amazing how many famous American writers composed poems and essays on patriotism. It seems to have been one of their favorite subjects. And in years gone by many of these works were avidly studied in grammar schools across the country. Students frequently memorized the lines and remembered them for life. While that fashion has now faded, and perhaps due to extended peace, we have a more faded attitude toward nationalism. It still behooves us to recognize the real accomplishments in this genre at this time of the year.

Consider the following lines by John Greenleaf Whittier from a poem called "Centennial Hymn," a work celebrating the 100th birthday of the Republic:

For art and labor met in time,
For beauty made the bride of use,
We thank Thee; but, withal, we crave
The austere virtues strong to save,
The honor proof to place or gold,
The manhood never bought nor sold!

Oh make Thou us, through centuries long,
In peace secure, in justice strong;
Around our gift of freedom draw
The safeguards of Thy righteous law;
And, cast in some diviner mold,
Let the new cycle shame the old!
Even after all these years, these lines are still affecting.

EAST BETHEL ROAD TO BE REPRINTED

Through the cooperation of the family of Eva Bean, the Bethel Historical Society is pleased to announce plans to reprint her classic local history, "East Bethel Road" which first appeared 25 years ago in 1959. The 450-page book will be entirely reprinted along with numerous maps and photographs. Containing a wealth of genealogical data with surveys of each house and building site in the eastern and southern portions of the town, the book also includes histories of Bethel churches, Gould Academy and important developments in the town's past. It is expected to become available late in 1984.

The 1984 edition will also include about 100 extra pages bringing the family histories and house sit surveys up to date. It will also feature an essay about changes in East Bethel in the last 25 years.

PERMIT NEEDED TO POSSESS
OR USE FIREWORKS IN MAINE

Citizens are reminded that having or using fireworks without a permit is a violation of Maine law.

"The tragedy is not just disobeying the law, but the serious injury that can result, as happened when four people were hospitalized a couple years ago after their car exploded from fireworks they were transporting in Maine, said Commissioner Arthur A. Stiphon of the Maine Department of Public Safety.

During the Fourth of July holiday period, the Maine State Police will be assisting the State Fire Marshal by enforcing the law and bringing to their attention any fireworks accidents, Stiphon said.

"The only fireworks legal in Maine are paper or plastic caps, unless it is an exhibition for which a permit has been issued by the State Fire Marshal's Office," said State Fire Marshal Donald Bisset. Bisset said, "More than 2,000 pounds of illegal fireworks were recently intercepted and confiscated by State Fire Investigators assisting local and county law enforcement agencies. Maine Law (Title 8, section 211) says, 'no person shall sell or keep or offer for sale or use, explode or cause to explode any combustible, explosive composition or substitute.' This includes firecrackers, roman candles, sky rockets, M-8 type salute fireworks, etc."

The penalty for not obeying the law is $100 fine, one month imprisonment or both.

written by East Bethel native, Society Director Stanley R. Howe. An expanded index by Agnes H. Haines will also be included and the dust jacket will be a color copy of Susie Kimball's watercolor painting of Middle Intervale looking east in 1880.

Eva Marion Bean was born in East Bethel in 1895. She graduated from Gould Academy in 1913, Colby College in 1917 and received her R. N. in 1922 from Presbyterian Hospital in New York. Long interested in local history, she spent more than five years researching and writing "East Bethel Road." She also was the founder and first secretary of the Bethel Historical Society organized in 1966. She died in 1969. Her notebooks, many of which were assembled during the writing of "East Bethel Road," are now in the Society archives which were named in her honor in 1976.

The new edition to be printed on acid-free paper with an expected life of approximately 300 years is being offered to the public at a special pre-publication discount. After publication the cost will increase. Because of the great demand anticipated for this book and the limited number of copies to be offered for sale, anyone interested in obtaining one should place an order as soon as possible. Inquiries should be directed to the Bethel Historical Society, P. O. Box 12, Bethel, Maine 04217 or call (207) 824-2908.

PILGRIM FELLOWSHIP RETURNS FROM NEW YORK CITY TRIP

The Pilgrim Fellowship of West Parish Congregational Church returned Friday afternoon from its trip to New York City and northern New Jersey.

During the adventure-filled five days they were away, members of the group visited Yale University, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, Riverside Church, Columbia University, the Interchurch Center, the United Church Board for World Ministries, the World Trade Towers, Battery Park, Wall Street, two different YMCA's, the United Church of Christ national offices, the United Nations, Fifth Avenue shops, Central Park, Greenwich Village, Rockefeller Center, the Empire State Building (at night), Chinatown, the New Jersey Meadowlands Sports Complex and regional dump site, Liberty Park, and New Jersey suburban neighborhoods and shopping malls. They travelled the highways, tunnels and bridges with New York's four million commuters, experienced urban traffic and parking problems, and rode the subways through the city.

Everyone came home with a much better understanding of city life and an appreciation for the challenges that must be faced in dealing with urban homelessness, starvation in Third World countries where church missionaries are at work, and the balancing of land use in the Meadowlands where the Sports Complex, corporate office parks, housing developments, 55,000 tons of garbage per week, and the environmentally concerned forces struggle to determine the future of what was formerly considered "worthless swamp."

The Pilgrim Fellowship is very grateful to all who made the trip following categories:
Certificates to all participants—Awards presented to the 1st place finishers (Male and Female) in each tri-athlete division, 1st team in age division (Male, Female and mixed).
Lunch will be available in Norway Lake Park following the race. For more information or to register, visit the Oxford Hills YMCA office at Norway Lake Park, or call 743-7184.

TELSTAR REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL HOLDS ITS FIRST SUMMER SCHOOL

A six week remedial summer school program began at Telstar Regional High School on Monday, June 18. Twenty-three students are enrolled in four different classes to make-up work and earn credit for courses they failed this past school year.

The Telstar Summer School has two morning class sessions (7:30-9:30 and 9:45-11:45). The first Telstar Summer School program offers Algebra I, English, Geography, World History and U. S. History courses. The teachers of these courses are Mrs. Sally Wilson (Algebra I), Rodney Abbott (English and U. S. History), and Charles Raymond (Geography and World History).

Of the 23 students enrolled, three possible through support of the group's workdays, car wash, food sale, and yard sale during the past year. It was an experience that none will forget.

Those participating in the adventure were Keith Clanton, Derek Dresser, Kevin Powell, Lisa Clanton, Janine Conant, Eva Blake, Karen Gould, Keith Wight, Eric Wight, Jay Davis, and advisors Brendon Bass, Shirley Powell, Kris Atherton and Steve Wight.

TELSTAR SUMMER SCHOOL
CLASS IN PROGRESS — Pictured above is Rodney Abbott's U. S. History class offered by the Telstar Summer School. This course is one of four being offered during this six week remedial program. Commencing June 18 and ending July 27, 23 students (grades 8-12) will have earned make-up credit for their participation and efforts.

students from Mexico High School travel daily to Telstar. These three students are the only ones enrolled from other area high schools. There are also three eighth grade students and 17 ninth, tenth, 11th and 12th graders registered for these Summer School courses. Classes average from 5-7 students in size.

Telstar Summer School Director Daniel Hart believes the students enjoy their "second opportunity" to make-up school work. He believes now that the Telstar Summer School has been established, its reputation will produce more classes, more students and less enrollment registration costs next summer.

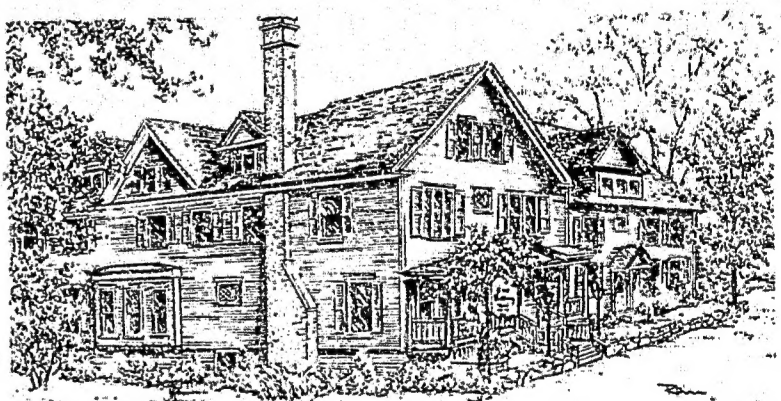

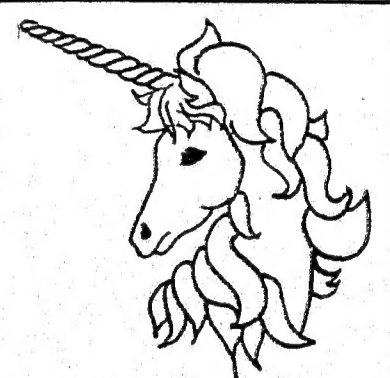

Telstar Summer School will end on Friday, July 27. In order to earn credit and make-up failed classes, students must also maintain perfect attendance throughout this six week remedial program.
